INTERIOR DESIGNERS of the Carolinas

Beyond mere aesthetics, interior designers bridge art and performance to create spaces that cater to individual style, needs, and preferences, shaping environments that evoke emotion and enhance functionality. The following pages highlight several distinguished designers in our region, each playing a pivotal role in our local design community by fashioning exquisite homes that elevate the well-being and quality of life for their clients. We salute these designers for their creative vision and expertise.

La Maison Atelier, the in-house interior design studio of La Maison Home Boutique, has gained a reputation for creating elegant and timeless interiors. From new construction to renovation, their team of designers offers turnkey design services that reflect the client's personality and lifestyle. The design team draws inspiration from European architecture and fashion while working with the best fabric houses and furnishings in the industry. "When designing a project for our clients, it's important that their inspirations shine through in all areas, whether it be in the details of art, furnishings, or functionality," says owner and lead designer Martha Schneider.
